Our 1924 Show Record

AT

Los Angeles Dahlia Show

(Our Only Exhibit This Season)

* * * * *

The Dahlia Society of Southern California held its annual show at the Arnold Building, 7th and Figueroa Street, Los Angeles, September 25-27, 1924. Advance Dahlia Farm received the following awards:

FIRST PRIZE—Best collection 12 Cactus Dahlias, 12 varieties.

FIRST PRIZE—Best collection 12 Peony Dahlias, 12 varieties.

FIRST PRIZE—Best collection 12 Hybrid Cactus Dahlias, 12 varieties.
Silver Cup donated by Messrs. Fraser & Son.

FIRST PRIZE—Best collection 12 Show Dahlias, 12 varieties.

FIRST PRIZE—Best collection 6 varieties of Collarette Dahlias, six blooms each.

SECOND PRIZE—Twelve blooms of one variety, won on "Halloween."

AWARDED

FIRST PRIZE on Best Dahlia shown on stem;

FIRST PRIZE on Largest Dahlia in show; these two prizes won on a bloom

MEDALS

Awarded Gold Medal donated by The Dahlia Society of California on the Best Dahlia shown with stem.

Awarded Bronze Medal donated by the American Dahlia Society on Largest Dahlia in show.

Awarded Gold Medal donated by The American Dahlia Society on Most Meritorious Exhibit.

SISKIYOU

The above picture of "Siskiyou," which won for us two Blue Ribbons, one for the Largest Dahlia in the Show, official measurement twelve and three-quarters inches, and the other for Best Dahlia shown with stem, was taken the second day of the Show.

This was in no sense a "forced bloom," in fact the plant had three more large blooms on it the following week. Undoubtedly Mr. Broomall has created in "Siskiyou" the naturally largest dahlia in cultivation, ten inch blooms being quite usual with it.

DAHLIA CULTURE

The dahlia is a plant easily grown. It will adapt itself to almost any kind of soil, the essentials being deep cultivation, good drainage, a liberal supply of humus, good circulation of air and plenty of sunshine and moisture.

On our clay loam soil, we can grow splendid flowers without any additional fertilizer as a stimulant.

We plant dahlias in three ways: A tuber or section of a clump is laid flat on the ground some four to six inches below ground level according to soil conditions, which is the usual way of growing them. These tubers can be sent to the other side of the world without damage.

Secondly, we have plants from green cuttings, taken off the clumps as small shoots and propagated in sand boxes. These are potted, and when strong plants, put out in garden or field rows.

The third method is the raising of seedlings from carefully selected seed, which is the method of creating new varieties. Seed do not reproduce the variety from which they are taken.

It practically takes three years to establish a new variety and place it on the market, that is, it should run true to form after having grown three seasons. Of course, anything that does not come along satisfactorily is discarded.

When established, you can use your talents to give it a very appropriate name, and start it out right into a very confused and crowded Dahlia World.

Testimonials

Dr. B. S. Bailey, president of the Winnipeg Flower Club, writes us August 25, 1924:

"Re. your dahlia 'Queen Zenobia,' I grow 75 to 100 varieties of the World's Best, and while they are all in bloom, the visitors are unanimous in voting this lady 'Queen of them all'."

Mrs. M. F. Bates, an amateur grower of Duluth, Minn., writes October 18, 1924:

"I wish to tell you how well the dahlia tubers you sent me last spring have done for me.

"First, everyone grew (which I cannot say of other orders I had filled), and all have been such good bloomers.

"I was afraid California stock might not do well in our climate, but I had wonderful success with them."

Mr. E. A. Richards, Greenfield, Mass., writes September 14, 1924, on results of dahlia seed purchased from us:

"I am writing to tell something of my success with your dahlia seed. I set out about 100 plants; I already have 75 of them marked to grow for another year. I wish you could have seen them. I took First Prize at the County Fair, and everyone thought they were wonderful."

Mr. C. J. Ingraham, formerly of Louisville, Ky., wrote us before going to his new home in Georgia:

"I have had the best luck with the seed purchased from you I ever had. I entered one seedling at the State Fair and won First Prize in competition with the best growers in this section."

Mrs. Herrington, of Bowling Green, Ky., wrote us last spring when forwarding another order for us to fill:

"Your tubers are the best I have received from anywhere, and I purchase a great many during the season."

We certainly appreciate receiving these unsolicited testimonials and wish we had the space to print more. They cover a wide range of territory, however, and are good examples of how reasonable care with the tubers and seed we send out will bring splendid results.

- Bizarre. English incurved cactus, rosy purple at base with white tips, very beautiful and quite a favorite. Its great drawback is the twisty habit of growth.....50c
- Captain Bairnsfather. A real good English importation, very fine incurving petals, color for the most part shrimp pink shading to yellow at tips, the stems good, a profuse bloomer.....75c
- Curlew. A large English exhibition flower, fairly good stem, bright cerise and a strong grower.....75c
- Dr. Roy Appleton. Straight petals, a pale yellow shaded pink, with excellent stems.....75c
- Fascination. A profuse bloomer of medium sized flowers in color white at base with balance of petals bright pink, good stem and foliage heavy.....35c

- F. W. Fellows. Considered the finest English cactus dahlia in cultivation, outer petals straight. The color is bright orange scarlet, the stem straight and wiry, a very large flower and a strong grower.....75c
- Guardian. A splendid English variety in a pleasing color of glowing crimson scarlet. The stem is perfect.....75c
- Gwendolyn Tucker. An imported pink and white, one of the straight petal kind, a strong grower with perfect stem.....50c
- Herbert Raby. A large ruby red flower with incurved petals, stems good. 75c
- Johannesburg. Somewhat similar to Fellowes, in a burnt orange.....35c
- John Riding. A very large rich red flower on perfectly straight stems.....75c
- *Los Angeles. Our best bright yellow, a California variety, a strong grower with good stem, profuse bloomer, petals quite fine and slightly incurved. We have a very large stock of this splendid dahlia.....75c
- Mary Purrier. This English variety is always popular, a fine exhibition flower with good stem, in color a rich bright red with incurving petals.....75c
- Melody. An incurve medium yellow, generally tipped with white.....50c
- Meridian. One we imported from England, a pale primrose yellow with the finest of petals, the flower carried on a straight stem, a strong grower. We now have a large stock of it.....50c
- Miss Judd. In this English importation we have the finest petals of any, a straw yellow shaded with pale pink, the stem straight. It makes a large bush and is a most profuse bloomer.....50c
- Mrs. Alfred Harvey. This is one of the finest we imported from Stredwick of England. It is a large flower on a strong straight stem, grows some five feet high for us, the color of flower a bright salmon pink slightly incurved.
..... $1.00
- Mrs. D. B. Crane. The best white we imported from England. It has straight petals and is a good grower with straight stem.....$1.00
- Mrs. Douglas Fleming. Pure white with rather coarse quilled petals, perfectly straight stems.....75c
- Mrs. Frank Lansdale. A new and very beautiful variety, color yellow shaded rose and tipped white, wonderful stems. Stock limited.....$1.00
- Mrs. Herbert Blackman. In this English variety we have a very beautiful blending of colors, lavender pink shading to white, the stem straight and wiry, a strong grower and profuse bloomer.....$1.00
- Mrs. Margaret Stredwick. Quite the best incurved form to date, a beautiful clear pink. Stem might be better.....$1.50
- Natalie Alsop. A good pink on nice stems, incurved and full.....$1.00
- Norman. A very large straight petal English introduction, color bright crimson, has stout straight stems and plenty of foliage.....75c
- Pennant. Another of our English importations which has done well with us. It grows like Fellowes, the stem straight, color coral red. We now have a fine stock of it.....50c
- Pierrot. A large attractive flower when correctly tipped with white. The rest of the bloom is amber and yellow.....50c

Richard Box. A good medium yellow of the straight petal form, on stiff stems.	75c
Sentinel. The tallest of all the English importations, a large deep rose pink, stem good, petals straight.	75c
Sovereignty. Another very tall growing variety, the flower massive, a rich golden yellow, popular as an exhibition variety.	50c
St. Leonards. A strong grower with good stem, the color striking, being bright yellow tipped with scarlet.	50c
Sweetbriar. We have especially featured this variety as it is one of the most beautiful dahlias we grow, color true rose pink.	75c
Vicar of Wasperton. A really delightful English importation, a strong upright grower, has great size and character, and capital stem. The base is very pale yellow shading into pink in main body of flower, and the tips shade off lighter.	75c

DAHLIA SEED

We have made immense progress in the quality of our dahlia seed and in the sale of it all over this continent; note some of the few testimonials on another page.

PLANTING DAHLIA SEED

We sow our seed in rows in "flats" (boxes 18 inches square, 3 inches deep)—the seedsman's rule is to plant a seed three times its thickness in sand or soil. We use fine garden soil and plant a quarter of an inch deep, then cut a square of burlap and lay over box and keep fairly moist so that the surface does not dry out. The burlap is removed when the seeds sprout. When the plants are four or five inches high we pot them. We find an ordinary putty-knife an excellent article with which to lift them.

This season we are offering seed in three grades, the best we believe it is possible to procure. We have made a close study of this matter the past three years and we find it an expensive article to produce. It is all hand picked.

SPECIAL SELECTED

This is our regular high grade mixed seed. No seed is gathered from inferior varieties. We have sold a very large quantity of this grade the past two seasons, and it has given splendid satisfaction.

One Hundred Seed for $1.00.

DOUBLE SPECIAL

This is seed put up in packages of twenty-five seeds, with name of parent bearing plant. Included in this grade are such varieties as U. S. A., Mt. Shasta, Mrs. Carl Salbach, F. W. Fellowes, and many more dependable seed producers of merit.

Evidently by the prizes won on seedlings from this grade and the quantity sold last season, you get good value for your money.

Twenty-five Seeds for 50 Cents.

ADVANCE XXX

This is a new grade we are putting out this year, the best we know how. Every packet has on it the name of the bearing plant, such varieties as Champagne, El Dorado, Kitty Dunlap, Mrs. I. De Ver Warner, come under this grade, and we have but a small amount to dispose of.

Names of parents furnished on request.

Twelve Seeds for 50 Cents.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE

Dahlia seed do not come true to the color of bearing parent. The seed throw a variety of colors and flowers of various forms. A party sent us back a packet of U. S. A. seed and said she did not care for the color. Evidently this matter is not fully understood. It is well known that our California grown dahlia seed has wonderful germinating qualities, so please don't write to us and say that none of the seed came up. We had such a letter last season, and have been wondering ever since to what depth it was buried. One party who purchased Double Special Seed wrote that every seed seemed to come up. All we have to say is give it time.

OFFICIAL DAHLIA RECORD

Prof. J. B. S. Norton's New Book

7,000 DAHLIAS IN CULTIVATION

This work gives the name, class, color and originator, and is a very valuable reference book. We find it indispensable. It should prove the means of avoiding much confusion in dahlia names and duplicating of names already in use. It gives correct spelling—a matter that is sadly in need.

We will mail you this book on receipt of $2.00.

PAYMENTS AND GUARANTEE

Tubers sent out are carefully selected and packed, guaranteed true to name and in good growing condition. Should any prove otherwise or there be any error on our part, we will cheerfully replace them.

We make no substitution for variety ordered without permission of purchaser.

We prepay all charges on orders amounting to $1.00 or more, retail trade; on orders under one dollar a charge of ten cents is made to cover postage and packing.

On wholesale orders purchaser pays postage or express as is customary. We are in splendid shape this season to handle the wholesale end of the business.
